October 1, 1989,

Dear Fellow Horseman:

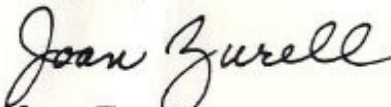

Are horses an endangered species in Lewisboro? Probably not, but the horse may be the last vestige of the semi-rural atmosphere that attracted most of us here in the first place. More and more homes mean fewer and fewer places to ride. As traffic on our country roads increases, so does the danger for those of us who ride our horses on them.

Perhaps it's time for us to organize so as to have a horseman's voice in the community. Since most of us are voters who pay substantial taxes, that voice could be made to wield considerable influence.

To identify community concerns that affect horsemen, and to discuss how we might address them, please come to a meeting (a short one!) at Echo Farm, Spring Street, South Salem, on Sunday, October 29th, at 12:00 noon. If you're interested but can't attend the meeting, please jot down your thoughts on the bottom of this letter and mail it back to me. (Don't forget to include your name, address, and phone number so I can get back to you with any conclusions we reach.)

Looking forward to seeing you on the 29th.

Regards,

Joan Zurell
